Space and Naval Warfare Systems Command Awards Contract

SAN DIEGO — Lockheed Martin Corp. Maritime Systems and Sensors, Manassas, Va. is being awarded a $6,725,273 cost-plus-fixed-fee contract for the design and development of the integrated common processor (ICP) system for maritime surveillance systems. This contract includes options, which, if fully exercised, would bring the cumulative value of this contract to an estimated $54.59M including ICP system hardware and software. The work will be performed in Manassas, Va., and is expected to be completed by October 2006 (December 2008 with options). Contract funds will not expire at the end of the current fiscal year. This contract was not competitively procured. The Space and Naval Warfare Systems Command, San Diego, Calif., is the contracting activity (N00039-06-C-0001)
